Editorial

Another milestone in the history of the Mary Baldwin Seminary Alumnæ Association has been passed. The reports have been encouraging, a spirit of real activity seems to have been awakened, and more and more convincing is the assurance of a deep-rooted love and firm loyalty to the dear old Alma Mater.

If any of the old girls need a re-awakening to a sense of her devotion to the old school—crowning the mightiest of the noble hills in the lovely little town of Staunton—we, her sisters of the Alumnæ, ask, aye beg of her, to make a pilgrimage thence, join the legion of the faithful, who every year meet at the re-union in May, and see for herself the Mary Baldwin as she stands today, “A thing of beauty and a joy forever.”

If there is one thing that should make the heart of every old girl swell with pride, it is the onward march which our school has made and continues to make. The exterior and interior are new every year with fresh paint and papering; modern buildings replete with every possible sanitary improvement; all equipment of art rooms, science halls, gymnasium, and swimming pool thoroughly up-to-date and efficient; and, above all, the Faculty maintaining and even surpassing its reputation for superior qualification and absolute devotion to duty.

Girls, you must all see for yourselves, so come next May, when the Classes of '67-'68, '77-'78, '87-'88, '97-'98, '07-'08, join hands within the classic walls, and swear allegiance forever to this school, which must always stand a noble and glowing monument to the grand woman, whose courage and faith enabled her to accomplish results of which the South, the West, the East, and the North are justly proud.

At the helm today stands Miss Higgins, a woman whose ability and bearing, will bring added laurels to the wreath our grand old Alma Mater wears. This is a new venture for her—the work is not an easy one—can we not lighten the load by giving her our help, our hopes, our prayers? She will always give the glad hand, as our retiring Principal has done, to any alumnæ, and what she wants most, is to know them all. Show her, by a large and enthusiastic re-union in 1917, your interest and loyalty; accomplish great things in your Chapter; increase the number of members, and organize new Chapters wherever possible.

Bear in mind that the greatest need the school now has, is an endowment fund. Let us all work for it. Secure endowment gifts in both North and South from those interested in woman's progress. Through an endowment fund the teaching staff can be increased, larger salaries paid, thus securing the best the country offers for this beautiful home of learning. With a wide connected effort much can be accomplished in a year's time, and the re-union of 1917 made the proudest and grandest in the annals of the Association.

Meeting of the Alumnae Association

May, 26, 1916

The twenty-second annual business meeting of the Mary Baldwin Seminary Alumnae Association was held Friday morning, May 26, 1916, in the Girls' Parlor of the Seminary.

In the absence of the President, Miss Terrell, the Vice-President, Mrs. A. M. Howison, presided, and the opening prayer was given by her.

The regular order of the meeting was somewhat changed, and the pleasant, though in a way sad, part came first.

Miss Weimar, for a number of years the efficient Principal of our Alma Mater, has resigned. An appreciation of her, written by Mrs. Margaret Peale Wright, was read by Miss Abbie McFarland:

An Appreciation of Miss E. C. Weimar:

Forty-three years ago there came to Mary Baldwin Seminary (then known as A. F. S.) a very young and charming girl, who had been chosen as one of the new teachers. The school was small then and poorly equipped, according to modern requirements and standards. Miss Baldwin had struggled bravely since the Civil War and was gradually forging ahead, gaining fame for her school throughout the South. Miss Baldwin's success was due to her own charming personality, and her wonderful foresight in choosing as her assistants ladies who would add charm, culture, and efficiency to the Seminary.

For two years this young girl (none other than Miss Ella Clair Weimar) taught at A. F. S., and during that time won the dear friendship and deep admiration of Miss Baldwin. So lasting was the impression made, that in 1889 she was chosen by Miss Baldwin as her Assistant Principal, and she held this position until the death of Miss Baldwin in 1897. By vote of the Board of Trustees, she was then appointed Principal, and has continued to hold this trying and difficult position, with matchless ability, up to the present time.

Think of what our Alma Mater owes to her for her twenty-nine long years of actual service—service in which she devoted unstintingly her time, her brain, her very self. None know so well as I of her devotion, her untiring energy, her continual sacrifices. She took only a short time in the summer months for her vacation, but even then she was thinking of and planning for her coming year's work. It has been said by one who knows, that the finest, grandest, and most-to-be-admired type of woman is not one without emotion; nor yet one who is emotional; but, one who has emotion well controlled. I can think of no one who answers this description so well as Miss Weimar.

Those who have been fortunate enough to have been admitted into her inner life, know of her great generosity—her many gifts to friends and to those in need. They know of her tender heart, of her exacting conscience, of her wonderful will-power—how she would lie awake, night after night, pondering over the difficult problems in her administration, or grieving over the thoughtless act of some careless school girl. She never hesitated to do that which she thought was right, no matter how adverse was the criticism which she received, nor to administer discipline where it was needed. Life is a school full of discipline, therefore, it is only reasonable to conclude that, one who has learned to know the meaning of the word, is better prepared for life than one who has had as a guide only the eternal ego. Who of us will not look back and be thankful for the lessons learned at Baldwin's. "She who would command must first learn to obey," is a fact now and will remain a fact till the end of time.

There are few of us who remember the Seminary in 1873, when Miss Weimar first came as a teacher. There are not many who even remember it when she returned to become the Assistant Principal. I wish that all could take a look at some of the old pictures, and could contrast them with the present beautiful and stately buildings. To be sure, the material improvements may have not belonged directly to Miss Weimar's domain, still, without Miss Weimar's capable and economical management in the Literary, Music, and Art Departments, the Trustees would have been sorely pressed for funds. The wonderful part is that while she exercised this rigid economy in every particular, she, at the same time, raised the standard and advanced each department. Now, we have a Seminary not only registered as a Junior College, but giving, in addition and in advance, almost an entire year of college work.

Miss Weimar righted an error of long standing when she balanced the curriculum, giving to each subject its due. In addition she has created two entire new departments, Art and Domestic Science. Under her regime the library has been greatly increased, and it now affords ample opportunity for research work and parallel reading.

I could go on indefinitely pointing out to you other changes and developments which she achieved and perfected, but your time is limited.

Think what a wonderful work she has done, and how her influence spreads into circle after circle over the sea of life. Think of the hundreds of women who have been educated and benefited under her directions; and think what a power for good each properly educated woman is.

As a body, we of the Alumnæ Association, feel that we are better for having known her; stronger in character, for her influence; and we, each and all, wish to extend our congratulations to her for a life so well lived, so full of achievements, and to say that our thoughts and our love are hers for all time to come.

Immediately following this reading, Mrs. Howison made some very appropriate remarks, and presented Miss Weimar with a silver pitcher, the gift of the Association, to show appreciation of her interest in and services rendered us.

Miss Weimar, in a few words, thanked the Association, and withdrew with the well-wishes of all. The silver service presented to Miss Weimar by the Faculty and students of 1915-1916, as well as the pitcher, were placed on the table, so the members of the Association could enjoy their beauty.

Miss Nannie Tate, the first graduate of the Seminary, the first President of the Alumnæ Association, and, for a number of years, the head of the Primary Department of the Seminary, was graduated from M. B. S. just fifty years ago. The good wishes of the Association were fittingly expressed by Mrs. Howison, and Miss Ida Smith, one of this year's graduates, presented Miss Nannie, in the name of the Association and the Class of 1916, fifty golden roses.

Following Miss Nannie's thanks, Mrs. Howison introduced the incoming Principal, Miss Higgins, who made a few remarks to the members present.

The Report of the Scholarship Committee was given by Miss Nannie Tate, and a note read from our pupil, Miss Gertrude Wilson. All her teachers spoke of her in a most complimentary way. A motion was made and carried, that the scholarship be awarded to Miss Wilson until she shall have finished the prescribed course at the Seminary.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved, Miss Strauss acting as Recording Secretary pro tem., owing to the absence of Mrs. Marshall, who, not living in Staunton at the present, and because her plans for the future are unsettled, has resigned, after serving in that office very efficiently for several years.

The President's Report was read by Mrs. Howison and accepted.

Report of the President for 1915-1916

Members of the Alumnæ Association:

Though I cannot be with you in person for our Annual Meeting this year, I shall be there in thought; and I trust that the meeting will be a most satisfactory one in many ways.

Last year, just after Commencement, we had a meeting of the Executive Committee, and discussed the work for the year, but since that time I have been unable to attend the meetings. During the year I have often had to call upon the members of the Executive Committee in Staunton, especially Mrs. Howison and Miss Strauss; and I wish to thank them for the assistance they have given.

I have written about one hundred and twenty-five letters and cards, and have tried in every way to interest old Seminary girls to the Alumnæ Association.

Report of money spent for stationery and postage has been sent to our Treasurer.

Much of my time has been spent in working for an endowment fund, and although we haven't succeeded in raising any large amount, I believe we have at least made a beginning. Through the annual letter to the members of the Graduates' Council, the matter was again brought to their attention, and several interesting suggestions were made.

Though Mary Baldwin has been made a Junior College, we should strive to go forward one step more, and make it a college of "A" rank. For the accomplishment of this an endowment fund is necessary. Surely all will work together—and in the near future make our dreams a reality.

Respectfully submitted,

KATE EARLE TERRELL, '12.

Treasurer M. B. S. A. A.

The Auditing Committee reported the Treasurer's books correct.

The Treasurer was authorized to set aside the yearly interest from invested bonds, to be used for increase of the Scholarship Fund. She was also given instruction to put $100.00, or less (to be decided by her after the 1916 meeting expenses were paid) to the Scholarship Fund.

The Report of the Corresponding Secretary was heard, and accepted:

Report of the Corresponding Secretary

I was sick for about three months, during the winter, just at the time when I had planned to do my Alumnæ work, but Misses Fannie Strauss and Elizabeth Bell came to my assistance, and have a fine report to make for them.

About seventy letters have been written since May, 1915, most of them trying to secure Vice-Presidents for each year, and as a result we obtained representatives for twenty-seven classes. A number of splendidly revised lists have been sent in, and about one-third of the new members of the Association are secured by the Class Officers.

Three of the Vice-Presidents deserve special mention on account of the splendid work they have done:

Mrs. Laura Gilmer Hadra, '92, wrote ninety letters; sent in an almost perfect list; and, reported two applicants for membership.

Miss Margaretta Fultz, '97, wrote sixty letters and reported three members, and sent a fine new list.

Miss Thalia Gillett, '08, wrote an hundred and eighteen letters, and secured twelve new members, so she should be awarded the star medal for excellency.

We members of the Class of '12, however, still contend that we head the list, for forty of our girls have joined the Alumnæ Association, and this number, we believe, is the largest from any single class.

I have used $2.00 for postage and still have on hand $2.00 from the $10.00 given me by the Treasurer last year.

Respectfully submitted,

SARAH JAMES BELL, '12.

The Publication Committee reported six hundred Bulletins printed in 1915, and several supplies of stationery and application blanks.

The Report of the Graduates' Council, sent by Miss Terrell, was read by Miss Elizabeth Bell. This report was accepted with appreciation and all members promised to do all in their power to help with an endowment fund.

Report of the Graduates' Council for 1915-16

An endowment fund for Mary Baldwin was the subject discussed by the Graduates' Council this year. Various ways of raising such a fund were suggested last year, but since the Alumnæ Association did not feel that anything could be done at that time, the matter was again brought before the Council.

Over fifty letters were sent out; ten answers were received, and three letters were returned unclaimed.

Among the suggestions offered were the following: That each lady who has attended Mary Baldwin be asked to pledge one dollar a year for five years, or five dollars in a lump sum, toward the endowment fund. That each girl who graduates in the future, or who leaves Mary Baldwin not to return, be asked to do the same. That the present students give a play or entertainment of some sort, the proceeds of which should go to this fund.

Another suggestion was, that each graduating class should make a donation to this cause as its parting gift to the Seminary; and, as a class, pledge themselves to contribute a certain sum by the time of their first re-union.

Still another suggestion was, that an Endowment Fund Committee be appointed; that each Chapter should have a representative on this committee; and, that the members of this committee should try to locate those of the Alumnæ who are sufficiently independent in a financial way to make large donations, and should, if possible, arouse their interest in the Association.

The following suggestion was submitted by several of the graduates: That a chain letter, asking for a small amount of money, be started by an Endowment Fund Committee; that such a committee should be invested with the authority to work out all details, such as the amount asked of each person, and the number of letters required.

Memorials Were Read

On the death of Mrs. Mattie Beggs-Spratt, written by Mrs. Nellie Hotchkiss-Holmes; Mrs. Ella Inman-Dubose, written by Mrs. Annie Hotchkiss-Howison; Mrs. Berta Hogshead-Sanford, written by Miss Julia Aunspaugh.

The Chapter Reports

All of our Chapters sent reports; some were given by a representative member in person, and each one thoroughly enjoyed. We regret that we have not all the Reports in a form to be here printed.

Report of New York Chapter

Madam President and Members of the Mary Baldwin Seminary Alumnæ Association :

The New York Chapter held its fall meeting on Miss Baldwin's birthday, October 4, 1915, at the Hotel Martinique. Owing to the fact that many do not return to their homes until late, we had a very small gathering, but in spite of that the voluntary silver offering amounted to $54.50.

It was the pleasure of the Chairman, during the fall, to send out about five hundred letters to Alumnæ, telling them of Miss Strickler's resignation and asking for a small contribution towards a loving cup. Many were never heard from, but enough reported to make our object possible, and just before Christmas a very handsome loving cup was shipped to Miss Strickler at Tuscaloosa, Ala. On one side was the inscription composed by our own Dr. Fraser :

“Presented to Miss Virginia Margaret Strickler, by her former pupils in Latin. A tribute of love, admiration, and gratitude, for nearly fifty years of instruction in the Mary Baldwin Seminary, where, by rare teaching, lofty example, and faithful friendship, she molded strong womanhood, and did a great deal to make for our Alma Mater its splendid reputation."

In acknowledging this cup for Miss Strickler, Dr. Denny said, in part:

"I wish that you and all who have participated in this handsome tribute might know something of the real joy that you have brought into the closing days of Miss Strickler's life. This cup is the thing that she treasures above all other possessions. She keeps it constantly at her side. It is really a benediction to her.

"I know that Miss Strickler deeply regrets the fact that her physical condition does not permit her to write letters; otherwise she would write to each one who has had a share in rendering possible this great tribute."

Many of the letters received from "old girls" (dating from the sixties up to the present time) were so full of gratitude and affection, that I forwarded as many as possible to Miss Strickler, knowing that such expressions would be most gratifying to her, assuring her that her labors had not been in vain.

On April 15th our Annual Luncheon was held at the Hotel Martinique, preceded by a business meeting. The subject of the Endowment Fund was freely discussed, and since our desire has already been accomplished and the Seminary is now a Junior College, it was thought that the original purpose of the Endowment Fund seemed lost. Many of our members expressed themselves as being loathe to see the Primary Department abolished and the school made a full College, it being their opinion that those desiring to take a more advanced course than the Seminary offers, would prefer to spend those two years at a Northern College. It was, therefore, voted to hold in abeyance what small sums our young Chapter has been able to raise, and await further developments.

Thirty-five members and guests were present at the luncheon, which was a most enjoyable occasion, and three new members were added, making our total enrollment thirty. The tables looked most attractive decorated with jonquils and asparagus ferns, the vases being tied with bows of white and yellow. After a delicious repast, some of our members and friends rendered a delightful program of songs, recitations and piano solos, and this was pronounced by all our most successful meeting.

The New York Chapter sends greetings to you all, and extends a cordial invitation to any "old girls" who may be in New York in October or April, to attend our meetings at the Hotel Martinique.

Respectfully submitted,

JANETTA BAKER FELTER.

Report of Birmingham Chapter

Madam President and Members of the Mary Baldwin Seminary Alumnæ Association:

The Birmingham Chapter sends greetings to the Association assembled.

The Chapter held two meetings during 1915, one on May third, at the home of Miss Kate Earle Terrell, and the other, a social meeting, being a luncheon, at the Newspaper Club, on October fourth. This was particularly well attended, fourteen members of the Chapter being present.

The Chapter is contributing $10.00 this year toward the Endowment Fund. Last year our contribution was $50.00, but we did not feel we could do so well this year. However, we hope to do better next year, for we are very much interested.

Respectfully submitted,

(MRS.) LAURA HAGOOD ALEXANDER, Secretary.

Report of the Norfolk Chapter

Madam President and Members of the Mary Baldwin Seminary Alumnæ Association :

Three meetings were held during the year, and much interest and enthusiasm were shown by those present. At the January meeting we had the pleasure of having Mrs. Nelle Crow Henderlite with us, she being a member of our Chapter, though living in Gastonia, N. C.

At the last meeting held in March, plans were discussed for a card party to be given in the early fall for the benefit of the Endowment Fund. All present expressed great appreciation of the invitation to attend the meeting of the Alumnæ Association and Commencement Exercises in May, extended by Miss Weimar, to whom a letter was sent, expressing regret at her retirement and our appreciation of her years of service to our Alma Mater.

Respectfully submitted,

ELIZABETH HANGER-CHALENOR.

Report of the Charleston (S. C.) Chapter

Madam President and Members of the Mary Baldwin Seminary Alumnæ Association :

The Charleston Chapter met at noon, on April 14, 1916, at Sixteen Legaré Street, Charleston, S. C.

Those present were: Mrs. Carrie Simonton-Alston, Mrs. Hortense Solomons-Cohen, Mrs. Flora Wheatley-Bacot—the new member—and Mrs. Nellie Hotchkiss-Holmes.

The guest of honor was Mrs. James Davenport, a sister-in-law of Mrs. Lelia Davenport-Stapleton, of Americus, Georgia. The latter was a M. B. S. girl in 1881-1882.

Mrs. Nathalie Johnson-Robertson, and Misses Helen Wickenburg, Katherine Lebby and Elise McLeod were unavoidably absent.

The minutes of 1915 were read. The changing of the dear old Alma Mater into a Junior College was announced, and questions asked as to an Endowment Fund. The resignation of Miss Weimar caused surprise and regret. During lunch gay and sad words passed, and the members left decorated with lovely yellow William Allen Richardson roses, to meet in 1917.

Since then we have found a charming member for the future, in Mrs. Henry P. Williams, now of this city, but known at the M. B. S., in 1887-1888, as Mary Kendall Goode, of Atlanta, Georgia.

We unite in a tender farewell to Miss Weimar, and send greetings to the assembled Alumnæ in the old familiar scenes.

Respectfully submitted,
NELLIE HOTCHKISS-HOLMES, '74, Chairman.

Report of the Washington Chapter

Madam President and Members of the Mary Baldwin Seminary Alumnæ Association:

The Washington Chapter has met twice during the past year, with an average attendance of nine. We have twenty members enrolled.

Mrs. James Trimble, nee Lizzie Firor, was unanimously elected Chairman. Mrs. James Fisher, nee Sophia Bibb, and Mrs. F. W. Mahood, nee Kate Danner, were nominated for the joint office of Secretary and Treasurer. Mrs. Mahood was elected.

Mrs. Trimble suggests that we get a calendar with cuts of the Seminary and sell to help with the Endowment Fund.

These meetings are enjoyed by all of us old girls, and as we talk of reminiscences we are back in our teens.

You will have as our delagate Mrs. Nannie Walker Turk. Each one of us long to be with you and send greetings, wishing a long and happy life to each member of the M. B. S. Alumnæ Association.

Respectfully submitted,
KATHERINE DANNER-MAHOOD, Sec'y-Treas.

We wish to thank the Birmingham Chapter for their interest in and contribution to our Endowment Fund.

Then came the old business.

On the recommendation of the Executive Committee last year, it was suggested that any old Baldwin girl, not a member of the Association, could come to the banquet, held every two years, by paying $1.00. This was put in the form of a motion and accepted.

A committee, consisting of Mrs. Sprinkel, Mrs. Stout, and Mrs. Cushing, was appointed to express to the Board of Trustees the appreciation of the Association and Graduates' Council, for the courtesy shown them in their interest in making Baldwin's a Junior College.

The following letter was read and the matter left to the Executive Committee for decision :

RICHMOND, VA., May 21, 1915.

MISS KATE EARLE TERRELL,

Mary Baldwin Seminary,

Staunton, Virginia.

MY DEAR MISS TERRELL :

I write in great haste, as I have just heard from Miss Weimar today that your Alumnæ Association meets tomorrow.

I write in behalf of the Bureau of Vocations for Women, the literature concerning which I am sending with this letter. This organization, as you will see, is a coöperative one, to assist girls and women to the best positions in occupations other than academic teaching. Each year more and more girls are leaving school and college to earn their own living, and many of them are not fitted to teach, and do not wish to teach. Our organization was founded to assist this type of girl. We collect all possible information as to non-teaching opportunities in Virginia and elsewhere, give information as to the education and training necessary for these opportunities, and endeavor to find adequate positions for properly equipped candidates who register with us. In this way we are doing for all girls and women, and particularly for those leaving our schools and colleges, what they cannot do for themselves—we are keeping in touch with the outside world and finding what it holds of interest to the girl who must earn and does not wish to teach. This is the first enterprise of this kind in the South, and we feel that we have an opportunity to serve not only Virginia girls, but all Southern girls.

Ever since our office opened last October, I have been endeavoring to get in touch with the various School and College Alumnae Associations in Virginia. I have been very successful with those which have already had meetings, and a goodly number have already given us their interest and such financial support as they felt that they could. Miss Morris' School, Richmond; Virginia College, Roanoke; Hollins College, Woman's College, Richmond, have already pledged us their support, and we are rapidly reaching others. Will your Association not help us also? We want your members to take an interest in the work—we want to be of service to them, if any of them should need our help, and we want them to help us by an annual contribution to carry on the work. Our budget last year amounted to $500, and will be about the same for the coming year.

Miss Weimar is a member of our Board of Advisers and has taken much interest in the undertaking. She will be glad to tell you anything further about the work, I am sure; and perhaps she can explain more fully to you just how this work bears upon the interests of your Association and your school. This year I was able to visit several schools to talk to any girls who were thinking of going into non-teaching occupations, or wished some special training as a foundation for interesting work for their own pleasure. We hope that another year some one connected with the Bureau will visit Staunton.

Kindly let me hear from you in regard to the matter.

Sincerely yours,

VIRGINIA S. MCKENNEY,
Chairman Executive Committee.

The suggestion that a "Book of Reminiscences" be published and sold for $2.00 each, the gain to go towards an endowment fund, was tabled.

A motion was made by the retiring Corresponding Secretary that her successor be given money to have all class-lists re-typed. This motion was carried.

The report of the Nominating Committee was heard and accepted.

“The Oaks”, the attractive home of Mrs. A. M. Howison, was the scene of a beautiful tea, Friday afternoon, May 26th, when the Alumnæ Association of the Mary Baldwin Seminary entertained in honor of the visiting Alumnæ, M. B. S. Faculty, and Class of 1916. Cut flowers were artistically arranged about the house and Misses Weimar and Higgins assisted Mrs. Howison in receiving the guests.

Resolutions

Resolutions adopted at a meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Mary Baldwin Seminary, held on the 23rd day of May, 1916

Whereas, Miss Ella C. Weimar, who, after having been connected with this institution as pupil and teacher, was called by Miss Mary Julia Baldwin to the position of Assistant Principal, which position she filled until the death of Miss Baldwin on the first day of July, 1897; and was then by the Board elected Acting Principal, for a term of one year, and at the end of that time was elected Principal; and, having served as Principal for a period of eighteen years, she now declines re-election; therefore, be it Resolved, First, That the Board wishes to acknowledge its indebtedness to Miss Weimar for her faithful, efficient and successful management of this School, as Principal, during the many years of her service, and to say that, in the discharge of her duties, she has always shown her love for the Seminary and devotion to all its interests; that in the administration of her department, she has exhibited fidelity, zeal and marked executive ability; that the standing of the Seminary, as one of the leading female schools of the South, has been maintained and advanced under her administration; and it is with pride the Board makes mention of Miss Weimar's splendid record as part of the history of the Mary Baldwin Seminary.

Resolved, Second, That a copy of these resolutions be transmitted by the Secretary to Miss Weimar.

A true copy. Teste:

J. M. QUARLES, Secretary.

Resolutions of Staunton Chapter

Whereas, The Staunton Chapter of the Mary Baldwin Seminary Alumnæ Association, has learned of Miss Weimar's resignation from the honored position which she has so capably filled and in which she has displayed such marked executive ability; and,

Whereas, The Staunton Chapter wishes to express their appreciation and gratitude for her many years of conscientious and devoted service to their Alma Mater, and to hope for her continued success in whatever sphere of activity she may elect; therefore be it

Resolved, First, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to Miss Weimar, and Resolved, Second, That a copy of the same be spread upon the records of the Chapter.

COMMITTEE.

Commencement of 1916

The Class of 1916, sixteen in number, can boast of one of the prettiest Class Day Exercises ever held at the Seminary. Announced by a blast from the Herald's Trumpet the procession marched the length of the campus, the line was headed by the Queen and her Court, followed by the Graduating Class and the younger students. The beautiful and variegated costumes of those who were to take part in the dances, the white dresses of the graduates, with their streamers of yellow, all following the Queen in her royal robes and gorgeous train, made up a parade that was lovely in every detail. No Queen ever appeared more beautiful and regal than Miss Jane Kealhofer.

Programme

Processional.

Entrance of Herald,

Entrance of May Queen and her Court.

Pageant of Arts and Letters before May Queen.

Episode One

May Pole Dance, by the Children of the Kingdom.

When the merry bells ring round,
And the jocund rebels sound
To many a youth and many a maid
Dancing in the chequer'd shade;
And young and old came forth to play
On a sunshine holy day.

Episode Two

Art presents her Students to the May Queen.

Dance of the Colors.

The May Queen Decorates the Graduates in Art.

Episode Three

Music presents her Students to the May Queen.

Pipes of Pan Dance.

Pan's pipes are ever calling,

They call to you and me—

From tree-grown hill and hollow,

From reed-grown stream and sea.

The May Queen decorates the Graduates in Music.

Episode Four

Literature presents her Students to the May Queen.

Classic Dance, concluded with Danse des Fleurs.

The May Queen Decorates the Graduates in the Academic Department.

The Reunion of the Classes '14-'15 added greatly to the pleasures of the Seminary finals. Both Classes were well represented, and every "old" girl enjoyed herself to the utmost.

A meeting of the 1914 girls was held on Saturday morning, at which letters from two of the most interested members of that Class were read, and are here printed. The hospitality of the Seminary was extended to the girls present, and all reported the jolliest sort of a time.

Among the "old" girls who enjoyed the 1916 Commencement were :

Josie Woods, '06; Mary Preston, '15; Elizabeth Billingslea, '15; Elise McLeod, '14; Fay Mead, '14; Lydia Boardman, '14; Jester Holowell, '11; Bess Lee, '14; Elizabeth Wheeler, '15; Grace Sorg, '15; Lucy Johns Grier, '10; Martha Grier, '10; Lily Morris, '14; Emma Clark, '14; Marjorie Jenkins, '14; Agnes Wood, '14; Agnes Slemmons, '15; Mildred Cleland, '15; Frances Allen, '15; Flora Baylor, '12; Lillian Eisenberg;

'14; Vernon Liclides, '14; Sara Price, '15; Annah Ruckman, '14; Elizabeth Bell, '14.

It is interesting to note that the patron of the Class of '14, Miss Higgins, was elected Principal of the Seminary just at the time of that Class's first reunion.

HWAI-AN-FU, CHINA,

April 11th, 1916.

DEAREST GIRLS :

If wishes were horses, or an ocean liner in my case, I would surely be making for M. B. S., instead of sending you this letter now.

I can picture you all so clearly, and would give a mint to be with you. I guess Agnes and I will be the only ones missing from "1914." We will be thinking of you constantly, though, and longing to see you all. How well I remember the thrills of Commencement week at school! Everything and everybody is in a state of excitement. The girls are all sweet and lovely in their dainty thin dresses, and the place itself is perfect. I do think M. B. S. is the prettiest place in the Spring, when the lawns and trees are so green, and the flowers are out. Our only other "foreign" family here is leaving us to-day for America, so you see how well it would suit if only I could come along with them, and be at our reunion! But I hear, perhaps my sister Josey, will be at Commencement—and, if so, I will be doing a far better thing for you than coming myself—for I will be sending you the best that I have!

Agnes and I took our last examination on the language in March, and we are rejoicing over being through with that part. Now we can do more of the practical work, and feel that we are really helping some one. I have an average of two classes a day now, and am teaching Chinese characters and the Catechism to some little children, and some women, too.

Spring is late with us this year. The lilacs are beginning to bloom now, though, and some tulips. We have had quantities of lovely long-stemmed violets. What I am looking forward to most, however, is the wistaria. We have a huge arbor of it, and it has out-grown the arbor even and spread over three walls—I know it will be beautiful in bloom!

Please give my love to each one of the teachers whom I know. I still love them all, and think of them often.

With much love to each one of you, and wishing you a most joyful reunion, I am,

Always lovingly,

LILY WOODS.

P. S.—I do so wish some, or better still, all of you, would write to me. I would so appreciate hearing from you.

TSING KIANG PU, CHINA,

March, 16, 1916.

DEAREST GIRLS:

It came over me with quite a shock when I realized that the time is drawing so near for a reunion of the dear old Class of '14. As I can't possibly make it, even in an areoplane, for fear of the Japs, I must put in a little word at the reunion. You all may or may not remember that was a slight failing of mine! But be thankful that I am not there in person; for when I think of you dear girls all gathered at dear M. B. S. my heart, as the Chinese say, has more than it can speak out.

With all the changes that have come to many of you, I don't think any have turned back a century or two. Imagine no trains, no street cars, no cars, etc. Our mode of travel, up and down the Grand Canal, is a puffy little launch, towing a heavy barge. Then for shorter trips exhilarating rides may be had on miniature donkeys, with the pleasant excitement of taking a header into a ploughed field, as one of us experienced the other day. Or a safer mode is to take a wheel-barrow—there is an advantage in being able to view the land-scape leisurely!

I wonder if you would be interested in a single day's program with me. From eight-thirty until ten-thirty I have with the teacher. We are reading Genesis, Pilgrim's Progress, and the Sacred Edict (a famous Chinese classic). We are going to start "Little Lord Fauntleroy" soon, as a diversion! Then I go to the Girls' School and teach a class in Mark until after eleven. From that time until one I have my little brother William's classes. Directly after dinner I go to the dispensary and help there until four. On Mondays, Thursdays and Saturdays I have a class of eight little girls that I am teaching to read Chinese. They are coming along very well and remarkably when I think of the many weary hours I had over these same old characters last Spring. On Wednesdays, after dispensary, I have a class of little boys and girls in the Catechism. To hear them recite almost deafens one. The zeal of a Chinese scholar is measured by the volume of sound he can make!

Miss Hall and I are introducing basket-ball into the girls' school and we play almost every evening. Its lots of fun but rather confusing to try in the excitement of the moment, to recall the proper terms in Chinese! I fairly stutter sometimes. They are progressing finely and we're are looking forward to a cracker-jack Tsing Kiang Pu team.

Lily was up with me for a few days last week and we were glad to be able to take our fourth and last exam! That night all the "foreign" population (we are "out-siders" or "foreigners" in the Middle Kingdom) were invited down to celebrate our first year in China and also our "quituition" from exams. We number sixteen in all, counting the children, but are so congenial and jolly that we have a fine time and think Tsing Kiang Pu a right important place on the map.

We are, of course, deeply interested in the war, and its probable outcome. But out here the feeling is overwhelmingly against the British, if not for the Germans. China and the East are not any too greatly in love with Great Britian. Of course Japan and her possible movements are of more poignant interest to us. At the present it looks as if she will over-run old China and have the control for some years, until the Chinese wake up to themselves.

And now, dear girls, I am thinking of you all tonight, and this word of greeting bears with it a heart full of love and good wishes to you all. I just hope you have the happiest reunion, and that the Class of '14 may have many more, some of which I may get to attend. Have a fine, jolly time, and as you walk around the dear old buildings and walk the familiar terrace again, just give a thought to your other class-mates in far-away China; and, just a note from you would be oh! so lovely.

With a heart full to all of 1914,

Ever your devoted class-mate,

“CHINA.” (Agnes Woods.)

The Alumnæ Association extends its best wishes to the girls of the Reunion Classes, the Class of 1916, and to all Classes in general, and hopes that each year will see many old girls attending their reunions at the Seminary.

News Items

The Publication Committee wishes to take this opportunity to thank those members of the Association who have, during the year, sent in bits of news about old Baldwin girls, and to urge all other members to do likewise. We want to learn anything interesting about each and every old girl and to pass it on to other girls by means of the BULLETIN. Of course, there are a number of mistakes in names, dates, and addresses in the Roll of the Alumnæ, and any corrections sent to the Publication Committee will be greatly appreciated. With your help, we hope soon to have the Alumnæ list entirely correct.
